

Gradyville.

To-day is the first day of the year that has been comfortable without an overcoat.

Quite a number of our citizens attended court at Columbia last week.

Deputy Sheriff Rowe, of Sparksville, was in our town several days of last week, looking after our boys.

Luke Sherrill has been furnishing our people with some fine wood during this cold weather.

Mrs. Robert O. Keltner, who has been confined to her room for several weeks, has about recovered.

Owing to the ice and snow, our mail from this place to Edmondton, was knocked out for ten days.

During the extreme cold weather that we have just gone through with, Uncles Charlie Yates and Robert O. Keltner, two of our oldest citizens, stood the weather just like young men of 20 years of age.

Mr. A. Boston, of Sulphur Well, was in our midst a day so of last week, on business.

H. A. Walker, of Columbia, the well-known tobacco dealer through this section, was in our midst one day last week, looking after mules.

Mr. G. T. Flowers sold a very valuable span of young mules, last week, to Atkins & Caldwell, of the Milltown section for $300.

Uncle Buck Cook, a well-known citizen of our community, has been in a critical condition for the past ten days with la-grippe.

One of the largest hogs that ever was slaughtered in this section, was killed by W. L. Grady, last week. There was no stock scales convenient and we are unable to give you the net weight at this time.

We have not had any preaching or Sabbath school in our town, for the past month, owing to the very cold weather and deep snow.

Quite a number of our citizens attended the sale at Allen Keltner's, last Thursday. They report a very large attendance and everything sold for full value and especially the farming tools and live stock. Mr. Keltner will leave in a short time for Logan county, where he has bought a valuable farm. Mr. Keltner is one of our best farmers and a good citizen and we can heartily recommend him and family to any community.

We regret to learn through Mr. Hill that his son, Ed, who has been in the service for more than a year and is stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, is now confined to the hospital. This is the second time since the enlistment of Mr. Hill. We trust that he may soon be restored to his usual health, for he is certainly a good boy.

Miss Christine, the accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Nell, received a considerable wound last Sunday, from a burn while starting a fire in her heating stove. Her father also got a severe burn while extinguishing the fire. We are glad to note that Miss Christine is getting along nicely. It will only be a few days until she will be on the stage of action again.

Mr. Amos Keltner, who has been one of the salesmen at Wilmore & Moss' store for the past two years, tendered his resignation a few days ago, and has purchased one half interest in the general store of G. E. Nell, at this place. Mr. Keltner is a good business man, and we wish him much success in his new place of business. We know of no man that we had rather have as competitor than Mr. Keltner.

In conclusion we must say that we all enjoyed reading the contribution from the man "On The Road," in the last issue in the News, from his write up on Cane Valley, Milltown and Gradyville. We want to hear from him again, Uncle Charlie Yates joins in with your writer, soliciting him to let himself be known on his next visit to our town. We will take great pleasure in showing him through our city and getting acquainted with some of the best people on earth. Let us hear from you again.

Knifley.

The shower party at Mr. J. W. Beard's last Saturday night, was largely attended and all reported a nice time.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Garner, is dangerously ill at this writing.

Mr. Dempsey Bault, who has been in Ohio for the past two months, returned home one day last week.

Miss Lillie Wheeler spent last Saturday night with Misses Edith and Hallie Chelf.

This has been the coldest winter and the worst weather that has been for 30 years.

Preaching at Roley every 4th Saturday night and Sunday by Rev. Luther Young.

Mr. Robert Arnold, of Hattiesburg, Miss., who has been sick, is better at this writing.

Nell.

Hobson and Herbert Walker are in school at Columbia.

Luther Bell, who has a position at Lakeland, was at home the first of the year.

As the weather has been so bad, Rev. Pardue did not get here to fill his last appointment.

Born, to the wife of Alpha Jesse, on the 15th inst., a 11 pound boy. Mother and baby doing well.

Mr. Jeff Rose is in a very low state of health. Mrs. Rose is able to be up a part of the time.

The farmers here haven't all got their tobacco off yet.

The cold weather caught a good many scarce of wood.

Mrs. Nannie Rowe Roach's school was out the 16th of Jan. She was a fine teacher.

Mr. Filmore Kinnaird is very poorly at this time.

We have not had any mail here for two weeks until today. We are always so glad to get the mail.

Rollin Kinnaird sold Charlie Gowen one stack of hay for $40.

Glad to hear the Red Cross is doing a great work to help in the war. It shows a willingness of the people to do this.

W. H. and Otis Rose are at home now.

The farmers are not through gathering corn.

Glensfork.

We are having some very cold weather here at present, and there has been snow on the ground ever since December the seventh.

Cortez Sanders, our new sheriff, and his deputy, Geo. Coffey, were through here last week, summoning some of the boys to appear at court last week.

Tandy Thomas was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Marvin Traylor, at Breeding, last week.

Jim Letcher and wife, of near Inroad, were visiting the former's father, Mr. Tom Letcher, last week.

Mrs. Nan Collins, a very old lady, is sick at the home of her son, Abraham Collins, near this place, with something similar to paralysis.

Ray Strange and wife were visiting the latter's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones several days of last week.

Ruel Ross, of Inroad, was visiting in this community last week.

Married, on the 17th, Miss Docia Grant and June Lawhorn, at Rev. George Collins'.

Wm. Andrew sold one sow and pigs to Thomas Coffey for $32 50.

Horace Morgan, of Inroad, was visiting his brother, Joe Morgan, near this place, last Saturday night.

Breeding.

Editor News:—

What a difference in the population of this place since twenty-five years ago. All the older set of the Breeding family have long since passed over the river and the hundreds of acres of land owned by them is now in possession of other parties. When I first knew this settlement it was known as a religious community, and the younger settlers are keeping up that reputation. It is a church going community, the whole country being identified principally with the Methodist Church. The doctrine of this Church was spread here by "Uncle" Jimmie Breeding, who was a local minister, and who had in his day the reputation of being the most censored man in the county. He was a man in very good circumstances and he practiced what he preached. No poor family suffered in his community, and no wayfarer was ever turned from his door. I remember that in company with eight or ten others, during the lifetime of the old gentleman, of remaining over night in his home. When the hour for retiring came we were all invited into one room and after being seated a chapter in the Bible was read, followed by a fervent prayer for blessings that had been bestowed and for the preservation of our health. He has long since been in the glory land, but his deeds will never be forgotten.

Dr. G. T. Simpson has not been in the best of health for some time. He has almost quit riding, but does a prescription practice at home. His son, Dr. H. B. Simpson, does an active practice, and last week he was with his father-in-law, Mr. W. F. Alexander, who has been quite sick at his home in Burkesville. His wife was also with him.

Mr. G. W. Dillon and Mr. Froedge are the principal merchants at this place and usually have a very good business. The weather conditions have kept trade back for several weeks, but they are looking forward to an increased patronage when the cold spell is over.

Plant beds will be sowed early in this locality and a very large crop of tobacco will be set. Most of the tobacco grown here will be shipped to the Burkesville Loose Leaf House, the nearest point.

BACK YARD POULTRY KEEPING

If the best results are to be expected from the flock, the hens must not be allowed to become over-run with lice or the house with mites. Lice are there will be a place in the yard where the hens can dust themselves in the dry dirt. If such a place is not available, a box large enough (about two feet square) for the hens to get into it should be provided in the house and a quantity of dust such as ordinary road dust or fine dirt placed in it to allow the hens a place to dust themselves. A dust bath aids the hens in keeping lice in check and therefore adds to their comfort. Usually the lice are not present on the birds in sufficient number to prove particularly harmful. However, it is better to keep the hens as free as possible from this pest, and if they are not able to keep them in check by dusting themselves, other measures can be undertaken.

To rid the hens of lice, each one can be treated by placing small pinches of sodium fluorid, a material which can be obtained at most large drug stores, among the feathers next to the skin—one pinch on the head, one on the neck, two on the back, one on the breast, one below the vent, one at the base of the tail, one on either thigh, and one scattered on the underside of each wing when spread. Another method is to use a small quantity of blue ointment, a piece about as large as a pea on the skin one inch below the vent. If mercurial ointment is used instead of blue ointment, it should be diluted with an equal quantity of vasoline. Any of these methods will be found very effective in ridding the hens of lice and should be employed whenever the lice become troublesome. Two or three applications a year usually prove sufficient.

Mites are more troublesome and more harmful than lice. They do not live upon the birds like the lice, but during the day hide in the cracks and crevices of the roosts and walls of the house, and at night they come out and get upon the fowls. They suck the hen's blood, and if allowed to become plentiful—as they certainly will if not destroyed—will seriously affect her health, and consequently her ability to lay eggs. They may be eradicated by a few thorough applications of kerosene or some of the coal-tar products which are sold for this purpose, or crude petroleum to the interior of the poultry house. The commercial coal-tar products are more expensive but retain their killing power longer, and they may be cheapened by reducing with an equal part of kerosene. Crude petroleum will spray better if thinned with one part of kerosene to four parts of the crude oil. Both the crude petroleum and the coal-tar products often contain foreign particles, so should be strained before attempting to spray. One must be sure that the spray reaches all of the cracks and crevices, giving especial attention to the roosts, dropping boards and nests.
